A patriotic vignette 12

As Ukrainian hand dogs nod in agreeing for denying capitulating, whole families, citizens of these lands refuse to do errands for criminals, and we welcome them in Russia. As we all sensed American lapdogs wanted to create another no-man's-land. Fascist scumbags didn't expect that these citizens will call for a backup. Soviet sentiments were strong as never before. Far-right sissies and narco-junkies dealt with an inescapable conclusion of the vampire decision to fight until every last soldier is dead.

This slap from the mighty Russian army with bullets and rockets made fascist confiscate civilian cars and use them as the military ones. Ukrainians buy weapons from America, so it is Russia's national duty to stop their cooperation. Awhile their involvement into the conflict is increasing, other nations appear to the scene, making it clear that their presence is unacceptable, and as soon as American mercenaries fly back in coffins, American citizens spit to their graves for wasting everything forefathers fought for. Parcels of supplies from America come to the Ukraine in a very big amount providing "fellow" nazi regime with necessities, what they need from even clothes for high brass' wives to weapons of mass destruction and annihilation. Americans put enormous amount of cash and it lasts longer and longer. But as body bags pile up, there come thoughts of these business stop to continue. Withdrawal American mercenaries from Ukraine is inevitable and strongly supported by rebellious generals who are fully already tired to tolerate the oligarch profiting on foreign lands. Ukraine purchase everything from abroad and Latin countries provide soldiers for them, fresh to be fried.
